Imagine your character has gone on vacation. Pick a location and research it then come up with background designs. You will also need to adjust your character's clothes to fit the vacation locale and theme.

First, sketch layouts on one sheet of paper. Eventually you will break the layout into layers, deciding how the background elements need to be separated and where the character goes.

This is how to present the layout portion of assignment #2. Put your name and assignment # at the top like it is here (this is also how you should name the file).

On the right present small pictures of all the layers of your layout. Arrange them from bottom to top.

The big picture is all the layout layers combined.
