

evil cat puppets

EXCLUSIVE SHORT PUPPET FILM TO SCREEN BEFORE HAPPYTIME MURDERS AT ALAMO DRAFTHOUSE CINEMAS!!

Los Angeles, August 11, 2018 --- When the new twisted puppet police comedy The Happytime Murders (starring Melissa McCarthy, directed by Brian Henson) opens August 24, audiences at Alamo Drafthouse Cinemas will get to see an exclusive bonus short puppet film (created by the Los Angeles based puppet team Evil Cat Puppets) as part of the preshow entertainment.

Starring the fictitious puppet punk band The Partridge Enemy, "Me Love to Drive on the Sidewalk" features Muppet-style puppets in a musical (and often violent!) punk rock, Sesame Street-ish dystopia. Insane, fast paced, catchy and fun, the video and the song will be an exciting start to an evening of NSFW puppet films.

All Alamo Drafthouse locations nationwide will be showing "Me Love to Drive on the Sidewalk" prior to the main screening of Happytime Murders.

For images and to view the short, please visit:

www.evilcatpuppets.com/sidewalk

EVIL CAT PUPPETS

Evil Cat Puppets has built and performed puppets for the CW series Attention Deficit Theater with Jaime King (produced by Sarah Michelle Gellar) as well as Puppetzilla (presented by the Los Angeles Guild of Puppetry). Their puppet films have screened at SXSW, the Hammer Museum, Brooklyn Academy of Music, REDCAT and American Cinematheque/Egyptian Theater (Hollywood). Live, they have performed on the bill with the Muppets, Kids in the Hall and Kate Micucci.

CONTACT

Walter Santucci

818.419.0640

walter@evilcatland.com